'ELECTRONIC ECLECTICS' 3KSTATIC VISIT FUTURES-PAST ON GUNRUBBER

NOVEMBER 29, 2021 – dPulse Recordings has announced the forthcoming release of Gunrubber, the 14th full-length album release from underground electronic collective 3kStatic.

Available on digital, disc, cassette and vinyl formats from January 28, 2022, Gunrubber will also be accompanied by a deluxe, oversized 20-page companion booklet.

A nine-track concept album that fuses a Dadaist sonic approach with a deep exploration of the post-punk electro ethos, Gunrubber takes its title from the late-1970s Sheffield (UK) punk 'zine of the same name.

Gunrubber also pays homage to fallen 3kStatic heroes and mentors Paul Bower (founder of both said 'zine and the digital music distributor AWAL), and Cabaret Voltaire's Richard H. Kirk.

Lead single "I Want You" is an instrumental electro-clash "callback" to the classic Cabaret Voltaire track from their 1985 album The Covenant, The Sword and the Arm of the Lord, and is accompanied by a video featuring elements of the indie film Casanova Nosferatu by Lawrence Hollie.

Like the track, the "I Want You" promotional video is a conceptual reference to the original Cabaret Voltaire video by director and filmmaker Peter Care.

With releases on 19 labels worldwide since its inception in 1998, the 3kStatic collective project has collaborated with members / former members, of: Kansas; Yes; ELO, Part II; Cabaret Voltaire; Hula; Pop Will Eat Itself; Public Enemy; Parliament-Funkadelic; Public Image Ltd.; King Crimson and others.

3kStatic has also produced commissioned remixes for Ku-Ling Bros., KMFDM, Scum of the Earth, DJ Mea, Lords of Acid, Chris Vrenna (Nine Inch Nails), and many more.

Gunrubber by 3kStatic is released on digital, disc, cassette & vinyl formats from January 28, 2022.
